ADULT CLASSES

Portrait Sculpting

Date: Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, September 8-22
Cost: $100/student (includes all supplies)

Studio artist Lynn Price is an accomplished sculptor who specializes in realistic portraits. He welcomes students of all experience levels that are interested in creating lifelike portraits in clay and who want to learn. Lynn's friendly disposition, interesting anecdotes, and gentle teaching style make his classes a joy to attend.

Space is limited to 10 students (minimum of 6) for this three week workshop, so register today!

Contact Callie Hietala at 276.628.5005 x119 or chietala@wkmuseum.org to register. Deadline for registration is August 29.

UPCOMING PROGRAMMING FOR AN AMERICAN TURNING POINT

Secession Debate

September 13, 2 p.m.

Free to the public!

Abingdon Muster Grounds

Local historians will take on personas from the 1860s to debate the pros and cons of seceding from the Union. Audience members are encouraged to participate, and at the end will vote on which side has the stronger argument.

Gallery Talk

September 18, 7 p.m.

$5, Free for WKMA Members
WKMA

Join Andrew Talkov, Exhibition Coordinator for Virginia's Civil War Sesquicentennial from the Virginia Historical Society, for a fascinating and informative look at the people and objects included in An American Turning Point: The Civil War in Virginia.

MARK YOUR CALENDARS!

Mistletoe Market

Gala: November 6, 2014

Show Dates: November 7-9, 2014

Location: Southwest Virginia Higher Education Center

Mistletoe Market is William King Museum of Art's largest fundraiser. Held during the first full weekend of November at the SWVHEC, this event is the season's premiere shopping extravaganza. With 100 merchants from all around the Southeast region, shopping is a diverse experience not to be missed! On-site café, daily entertainment by local musicians and dance troops, holiday workshops, door prizes, children's art activities, and a visit from Santa on Sunday make this a great experience for all.

Tickets can be purchased for the Gala online at www.williamkingmuseum.org

For more information, please contact Mistletoe Director, Deb Kerr dkerr@wkmuseum.org 276-628-5005 x111
